

COMPETITION

TELL US YOUR STORY FOR A CHANCE TO WIN

NPW is all about celebrating the profession and sharing what we love about payroll. This year we want to start the step-change to changing the narrative around payroll, it's not all about the 'big red button' it's a strategic function, important to every business, whether you're in an inhouse or outsourced business.

However you came to the profession, we want you to share your career journey in the form of a video and explain why you decided to #choosepayroll

This week is all about celebrating the industry and each and every one of you but also to encourage new starters, students and career changers, so your video could be the one that captures someone's heart so they make the jump into our amazing community!
